

The Neuman Aluminium Group is specialized in the development and the production of high-quality aluminum parts. We are experts in aluminum, which is being used in the automotive, packaging and electronics industry. For our companies in Xinhui & Suzhou (China) we are looking for a full-time

Management Trainee (m/f) – Automotive

FIELD OF RESPONSIBILITY

This role will be exposed to different assignments and projects that will provide deep insights into our company and dynamic business environment. The objective is to prepare the jobholder for a future management career and includes the following responsibilities:

- Continuous analysis of production processes regarding quality, costs, output and productivity
- Responsibility for the implementation of projects in the context of operational activities
- Development and implementation of new manufacturing and processing technologies
- Responsible for preparation of necessary product documentation for quotation, prototyping, testing and mass production
- Processes optimization

REQUIREMENT

- Technical education (minimum Bachelor Degree) with deep economical understanding
- Chinese mother tongue and good knowledge of English and/or German
- Working place is in China. Flexible mobility to move to other regional locations will be good at some point
- High interested in a manufacturing company preferably in the automotive industry
- Good understanding of technical products, customer's requirements and expectation;
- Target-oriented and cultural know-how
- Team player and leadership

The contract conditions: In accordance with PR Chinese governing regulations
Salary: TBD, depends on the competence and quality

We look forward to receiving your application directly on our job board at:
<https://www.neuman.at/en/company/jobs-career/>

Contact: Mrs. Renate Schweighofer, Tel.: +43 2762/ 500 208

